

ESSENTIAL Southwest Architecture

PHOENIX
HOME & GARDEN

ABOVE: Featuring interiors by Suzanne Lasky, this lounge area of a penthouse condominium at Optima Camelview features a built-in, oversized banquette as well as overhead cable lighting that spans the length of the space. LED lights embedded in the ceiling offer ever-changing hues. Glass doors open to a private patio.

LEFT: Although its overall aesthetic is Modern, the unit's kitchen also gives off an organic vibe, thanks to the designer's use of textured materials. These include the Urban Bluestone 2-inch, high-low mosaic tile on the backsplash and the island's three-dimensional laminate front panel and four-inch-thick Silystone quartz top and waterfall side panels.
